Since 1956, from the first appearance of the journal, it had a high scientifically level. The results of very important researchers in the agriculture field from western and other parts of Romania and also from many European countries were published in this journal. In its content are published peer-reviewed reports of original research, reviews and short communications in the areas of Agriculture, Biology and Environmental Sciences. It had a gradual evolution regarding to the number and also the quality of published papers. The present name of the journal (Research Journal of Agricultural Science, ISSN 2066-1843) starts in 2009 at once with the volume 41. Until 2009 the journal was known as Lucrari Stiintifice: Facultatea de Agricultura - Scientific Papers, Faculty of Agriculture (ISSN 1221-5279). The role of the journal is to offer to the scientists and researchers in agriculture and collateral fields the opportunity to publish their results of scientific research.
